

5. This really appealed to the woman. She wanted to be as smart as God. Thus, she partook of the forbidden fruit to find out, not that she was as smart as God, but to find out how brilliant God really was. This did not work out for her.
6. Now, man can, under grace, be a noble creature. He can be honest and forthright. He can have nobility of soul. But the nobility of soul is in the super-grace area.
7. However, verbal reversionism caused by Operation Subterfuge, is a part of that lack of nobility that comes to the believer in reversionism.
8. The believer, then, building an Edification Complex of the Soul, or a super-grace believer, has nobility of soul, and therefore, honesty. He is honest, therefore, in the content of his speech. He is candid. He is frank. He is open without fraud, without deceit, without deception. This reveals his nobility of soul.
9. This is also why the pastor-teacher must get to supergrace as quickly as possible: because, he is dealing with the truth, and he must always present the truth as it stands, without equivocation, and without compromise, no matter who it hurts, himself or anyone else.
10. So far, the expanded translation of James 5:12 reads this way:

James 5:12a But most importantly before all things, members of the family of God, stop lying, or making promises with a solemn oath, neither by heaven—using God as a front, neither by earth, using something regarded as sacred or honest, or respectable, neither a solemn oath, which is perjury when this is violated ...

11. The verse continues in the New American Standard Bible with: “but your yes is to be yes, and your no, no,” ...
12. Now, we have a second use of δέ (de), translated, “but” in the adversative use which sets up a contrast. This time it is to contrast between reversionism and supergrace: ... “but your yes is,” the present active imperative mood #48 of the verb, εἶμί (eimi).
13. It's an absolute status quo verb. The present tense and the imperative mood are a command to perpetuate something. It should always be that way; there should be no exception to it: “your yes is to be yes, and your no, no.”
14. This is an idiom which demands honesty and straightforwardness of soul. It demands nobility and integrity of soul. It demands an expression of the soul's content in speech. Honest, noble, related to doctrine, related to establishment.
15. Honesty and integrity are words that describe principles based on truth and properly subscribed to carry the ideas of absolutes. Our government and an enlarging number of the nation's citizens have adopted the lie to achieve personal advantages to the disadvantage of others.

16. This leads us to observe the present Zeitgeist of the staggering foundation of what's left of client-nation United States. Here are some observations that presently define the potential downfall of our country, by the intervention of multiple actors that have far different notions of how it ought to be governed.
17. What follows is a synopsis of what may serve as a synopsis of what was viewed as serious threat to our republic at the time. Yet for over a half century the nation has somehow survived. What was discussed then were pertinent threats but by the grace of God has not yet come to pass.
18. Yet, when the Dark Side, under the relentless influence of Lucifer and his army of fallen angels, is obligated to carry out his pernicious strategy of global tyranny, then it only requires the shrinkage of thought and resultant failure of application by believers to foment a global rebellion.
19. The human minions who have unknowingly allied themselves with the current political administrators have become the worker bees to give the idea of global domination over to demons and unbelievers.
20. This situation is made evident by what has occurred globally over the last three years with prospects it will continue for another year or so and possibly for at least another five years.
21. All the Bad Guys have the personnel, the armaments, the strategies, and the inclination to foment World War III. Presently armed and ready are: Russia, China, Iran, all three armed with nuclear weapons with the intent to enforce their will on the West.
22. Aiding and abetting these enemies are those whose eyes are focused on personal political power and wealth by leaders who do not recognize that they will not survive to enjoy fruits of victory due to military defeat.
23. The United States cannot defend itself against the three powers, each nuclear armed, which have their focus on what may well be easy pickings for an ill-prepared target.
24. Over the past three years, the nation has been systematically invaded by the dregs, criminals, and miscreants from over 160 countries. Around 8 million have casually walked across the nation's southern border with another several million at least to follow if a new administration has the wherewithal to deal with the chaos.
25. Into this environment is not the peace and prosperity previously enjoyed during the previous administrations but instead by those presently in control whose clear intent is to foment division among their own citizens in favor of those who invade the country without any restraint.

26. While this increasing number of people continue to arrive daily, the streets of the larger cities of America are as dangerous as those in third-world countries. The lawless burn, riot, rob, destroy, kill, and leave devastated behind the smoking ruins of what hours before were businesses which insolvent insurance companies were unable to cover.
27. What is described above does not mean these things will occur since we have no one who can prophesy the future. But one this is for sure: should the nation somehow survive this self-induced cacophony there may be some way to restore order.
28. We have just learned in James 5, verses 9–12, that when hard times come, those who learn from their mistakes have the option to either cave into the pressure or make decisions to change their ways of thinking toward biblical and establishment absolute and piece their lives and/or the nation back together.
29. Retrospectively, we already should have learned a lot from the last three-plus years of chaos. What this nation and its leaders have fomented on its citizens, businesses, property, income, and freedoms over this time is quite enough of a tutorial to instruct the souls of the attentive that those who unleashed this madness on the citizens should never again allow revolutionaries to get another chance to try it again.
30. However, if those who brokered this rebellion simply thought it was worth another effort, they may well be encouraged to run the same play again. If that comes to pass, then we will know the answer to this literally “explosive question”: we all will be hoist by our own petards.
31. It is interesting how all this has played out over three-plus years. For years we have built up our military by concern over the military machinations of the Russians, Chinese, and now, even Iranians to hold them at bay. But these three adversaries have been lurking about for decades.
32. What if that trifecta was just being patient? What if they were able to discern that with patience, American’s loss of thought would play right into their hands? What if the American government astoundingly just opened its southern border and welcomed in every riffraff from 160 countries to casually walk across the southern and northern borders, view them all on television, well-dressed, yet with nothing more than that they could carry. None have run across; all have just leisurely strolled along confident they would be taken care of with phones, credit cards, places to live, and with carte blanche latitude to rob, pillage, attack, or murder.

33. Who is it that has primarily allowed this to occur in the clear light of day? Not the “new citizens.” Most are dressed to the nines. Not the dreaded bad guys from Russia, China, and Iran. Not even our Dear Leader. There is a tactic in football called “flooding the zone.” When the defense has a breakdown, the offense has a field day. Primarily, the zone that was flooded was the State of Texas and to a less degree by California and New Mexico and the Canadian influx from the north. These borders continue to be crossed unmolested well into the invasion’s fourth year.
34. Who opened the zone? Not Vladimir Putin, not Che Jinping, and not Ali Khamenei. They’ve enjoyed their time off in favor of Joseph Robinette Biden Jr. These three are probably planning to just play golf with eyes on Augusta for several rounds at the Masters.
35. Why was the overthrow of previous client nations so easily done? Well, probably all of them were, but ours could surely be near the top of the list. It will go down as an embarrassing display of Duck Soup. Easy pickings!
36. How therefore did our client nation become so vulnerable? First, it is important to remember that since the fall in Eden, the angelic conflict has been administered by Lucifer and his fallen angels. God has his troops identified as believers in Jesus Christ.
37. Lucifer’s army has eternal life and superior intellect and resources. God’s troops are Homo sapiens with less intellect but equipped to grow in grace and accrue immutable absolutes for the contest. However, Lucifer never lets up. He has a superior force that can only be overwhelmed by those who deploy divine viewpoint. Lucifers forces never die. God’s get older and gradually do die.
38. During the vacillations of the angelic conflict there occurs a gradual loss of thought in any client nation. Serious study of the Word of God requires consistency, concentration, spiritual growth, retention, and application.
39. The downfall of a client nation gradually occurs when those who have advanced die off when at the same time there is a spinoff into negative positive volition. Into that vacuum rushes the cosmic lie.
40. When this loss of thought occurs, then historical downtrends begin to allow the strategies and tactics of the lie to slowly gain the advantage. As the situation deteriorates, then the advantage swings toward Lucifer’s more prepared and intellectually superior warriors. Remember, those who fight in Lucifer’s army are the ones who have systematically taken down all client nations thus far from Rome to Europe while the USA is presently standing as the next client nation on deck.

(End JAS-19. See JAS-20 for continuation of study at p. 191.)

James, chapter five, verse twelve, continues our study of verbal reversionism. In verses one through six, we had a study of monetary reversionism. Verses seven and eight, the solution to it. Verses nine through twelve, verbal reversionism. Beginning in verse thirteen we will see the solutions. Before going there, we must wrap up the analysis of James Chapter 5, verse 12:

James 5:12a ) But [ continuative conjunction closing the parenthesis: δέ (dé) ] most importantly before all things, members of the family of God, stop lying [ present active imperative #47 of the verb ὄμνυμι (ómnumi) ], or making promises with a solemn oath [ Operation Subterfuge! ], neither by heaven—using God as a front, neither by earth, using something regarded as sacred or honest, or respectable, neither a solemn oath, which is perjury when this is violated; ... (EXT)

1. The word, “but,” which begins verse twelve, is a continuative conjunction intended to resume a discourse from verse 9. This particle actually closes the parenthesis. In verse nine, we began verbal reversionism with the principle of criticizing. In verses ten and eleven, we have the completion of a dissertation on studying adversity for blessing.
2. Then, in verse twelve, we resume with verbal reversionism. Verse nine emphasizes the slander, criticism, maligning, and judging of others, especially the pastor-teacher. Now, verse twelve indicates Operation Subterfuge. The particle δέ (dé): “But,” is used to resume the discourse; and, in effect, closes the parenthesis. Δέ is the particle, used here in the Greek. It indicates that verses ten and eleven are a slight interruption. The purpose for that interruption was to take a discourse on the fact that there is suffering for blessing. That doesn't happen to be the type of suffering in this passage; but, there is suffering for blessing.
3. The translation is, “before all things.” The discourse started out indicating the fact that, in verse nine, verbal reversionism results in suffering for discipline. Just because a person may be a verbal reversionist and suffer from it, there are other types of suffering, which are designed for blessing.
4. Now, back on verbal reversionism, and suffering for discipline. James 5:9 reads:

James 5:9 Stop criticizing [ present active imperative mood #45 of prohibition of the verb, μή στενάζω (mé stenázō) ] members of the royal family of God, against others, fellow believers, so that you yourselves will not be judged. See, the Judge keeps standing in the past with the result that He keeps standing before the doors. { Opens the parenthesis at verse 10 }

! Philip Babcock Gove, ed. in chief, “Subterfuge: A deception by artifice or stratagem to conceal, escape, avoid, or evade; deception,” in Webster’s Third New International Dictionary of the English Language Unabridged (Springfield: Merriam-Webster’s, Inc., 2002), 2281.

